1.1 Geography and Population

Austria covers an area of 83,878 square kilometres with a population of 8,404,252 residents, (as of 1st of January 2011) including 927,612 foreign citizens (11% of total population). Vienna is the most densely populated province of Austria with 4,130 residents per square kilometre; Tyrol is the least densely populated province with 56 inhabitants per square kilometre (population as of 1st of January 2011). The average newborn life expectancy in 2010 is 80 years.

Austria is bordered by Switzerland, Liechtenstein, Germany, the Czech Republic, Slovakia, Hungary, Slovenia and Italy.

Austria is a federal state comprised of nine provinces; each province has its own capital:

1.2  The Political System

Austria is a democratic republic. The Federal President of Austria is the supreme representative of the state. He represents the Republic abroad in addition to other duties (acting as Supreme Commander of the Austrian Armed Forces, appointing the Federal Government as well as high-ranking officials of the provinces and concluding international agreements, etc.).

The legislative body of Austria is the Parliament, which consists of two houses, the National Council (Nationalrat) and the Federal Council (Bundesrat). The Federal Government is headed by the Federal Chancellor who conducts governmental affairs with the assistance of the Vice-Chancellor, federal cabinet ministers and state undersecretaries.

Each province is administered by its own government, headed by a provincial Governor (Landeshauptmann/Landeshauptfrau).
Austria has been a member of the European Union since 1995.

1.3  Climate

Austria has a typical central European transitional climate (warm summers, cold winters and adequate precipitation). Additionally there are two distinct climatic zones in the interior regions of Austria: the east shows a Pannonian climate (warm to hot summers, relatively low precipitation and cold winters), while the central Alpine region has the characteristic features of the Alpine climate (as compared to the east, more precipitation in summer and long winters with heavy snowfall).

1.4  Languages

German is the official language of Austria and thus a prerequisite for participating in the working and economic life of the country. Croatian, Slovenian and Hungarian are recognised as official languages in the individual regions of autonomous population groups. English is taught at school as the first foreign language. However, many Austrians do not speak a foreign language.

1.5  Culture & Religion

Various clubs and associations (football, auxiliary fire brigade, singing clubs, etc.) exist in Austria in most of the smaller towns (municipalities). There are comprehensive cultural facilities (theatre, cinema, arts expositions) and sports facilities in the larger towns and cities. Information on clubs and associations can be obtained from the municipal offices and authorities (town and municipal administrative authorities). Daily newspapers and special event calendars provide information on current cultural events.

The East of Austria (Vienna, Lower Austria, Burgenland) has traditionally strong links to the neighbouring countries (the Czech Republic, Slovakia, Hungary, Slovenia). Today this proximity is expressed amongst others through the economic activity of Austria in these countries. The influences of former monarchical provinces can also be found in Austrian cuisine.

In smaller settlements, you will find inns and taverns with Austrian specialities (Wiener schnitzel, etc.) and typical regional dishes. In towns and larger villages there are restaurants offering international cuisine; Italian and Asian restaurants are particularly popular.
Meals are served as follows: breakfast between 8 and 10 am; lunch between 11.30 am and 2 pm; dinner between 6 and 9 pm. In rural regions sometimes only small snacks are served outside the regular serving times. In built-up areas and large cities there are numerous restaurants offering warm dishes throughout the day.
Austrian culture is heavily influenced by the Catholic Church. According to the census of 2001 the majority of the Austrian population is catholic (74%), followed by protestants (5%), Muslims (4%) and Orthodox Christians (2%).

1.6 Labour Market Facts & Figures

In the first quarter of 2011 (January – March) an average of 4,071,800 people were in gainful employment; of which 2,171,900 were male and 1,889,900 female.

The quota of 15 to 64 year old employed persons, i.e. the share of the employed persons in all persons in this age group was at 71.1 percent in the 1st quarter of 2011. The part-time employment quota (share of persons working less than 36 hours a week according to information provided by them) amounts to 25.4 percent. The share of female part-time employment lies at 44.3 percent.

The number of unemployed recorded in the 1st quarter of 2011 was 194,000. This represents an unemployment quota of 4.6 percent (according to the EU definition of unemployment quota – not seasonally adjusted). The youth unemployment quota (15 to 24 years old) is 8.8 percent whereas the unemployment quota of elderly people (55 to 64 years old) is 3.3 percent. Non-Austrian citizens are particularly affected by unemployment (9.3 percent).

When comparing the provinces unemployment in the first quarter of 2011 is highest in Carinthia with an average of 11.4 percent and lowest in Salzburg with 4.8 percent.

2. ARRIVING IN AUSTRIA

2.1 Duty of Registration

Residential registration is mandatory in Austria. Any person establishing their residence in Austria is obliged to register with the respective competent authority within three (3) days of establishing the residence.

Responsible authorities to contact in this regard are:

➔ the registration office of the municipality office (Gemeindeamt) or the municipal authorities (Magistrat) in cities
➔ in Vienna: the registration office of the municipal district offices (Magistratische Bezirksämter)

The following documents are to be furnished:

➔ completed registration form; the registration form can be obtained from the responsible registration authorities, registry offices (e.g. in Vienna) or the Internet.

The following details are to be filled in:
• name (including all previous names, if any),
• date of birth
• place of birth
• gender
• and nationality
➔ passport and birth certificate
➔ residence registration certificates for any other places of residence

The residence registration form (previously residence registration certificate, Meldezettel) must be signed by the lessee (the owner or the property management) and the tenant, submitted personally or by a person of trust or sent by post to the responsible residence registration authorities (Meldebehörde).

Upon registering in Austria, your personal data will automatically be saved in the Central Residence Registry (Zentrales Melderegister (ZMR)) and made available to various authorities. Every person registered in Austria is assigned a dedicated number in the Central Residence Registry (so-called Central Residence Registry Number, „ZMR-Zahl“) which is shown on the residence registration certificate (Meldebestätigung).

EU/EEA citizen and their family members staying in Austria longer than three months and intending to reside here must additionally apply for a registration certificate (Anmeldebescheinigung). (Please refer to section 2.2 Residence).

Additional information:
2.2 Residence

European Union (EU)/European Economic Area (EEA) citizens and Swiss citizens as well as their family members (EU/EEA citizens or Swiss citizens) do not require a residence permit to enter and stay in Austria as they enjoy both exemption from a visa requirement and freedom of establishment. They can stay in Austria for a maximum of three months provided they have a valid passport or personal ID.

The following applies to longer stays in Austria:

- living costs and health insurance must be secured, or
- a valid employment contract or a freelance employment contract is in force or
- a training program enrolment is applicable (apprenticeship, school attendance, university studies)

Within a four month period EU/EEA citizens have to report their taking up of residence to the residence authorities (district administrative authority (Bezirkshauptmannschaft) or the municipal authority (Magistrat)); the authorities will then issue a “registration certificate” (Anmeldebescheinigung). If the family members (spouse, children, partners, etc.) are also EU/EEA citizens their taking up of residence must be also registered by means of a “registration certificate” (Anmeldebescheinigung).

EU/EEA citizens can apply for an “official photographic identification for EEA citizens” (Lichtbildausweis für EWR-Bürger) with the responsible administrative authority.

For privileged nationals of third states, i.e. family members of EU/EEA citizens who are not EU/EEA/Swiss citizens, special regulations apply. Please contact the residence authorities or consultation services for more details in good time.

The required documents are to be presented in original copy and a court certified translation into German upon application submission.

The competent authority will advise you which documents and application forms are required.

Competent authority:
- district administration authorities (Bezirkshauptmannschaft) or municipal authorities (Magistrat)
- in Vienna: Municipal department 35 (Magistratsabteilung 35, MA 35)

3. LIVING CONDITIONS

3.1 Comparable Price Levels of Living Costs

Austria’s currency is the Euro (€), one Euro is comprised of 100 cents.

The system of comparable price levels allows comparison of the purchasing power between national currencies. The comparable price levels also indicate whether a country is cheap or expensive compared with the average (EU 27 = 100).

3.3 Retail Business Hours

Shops are generally open from 9 am until 6 pm in Austria; supermarkets open at 7.30 am and close partly at 7 or even 8 pm. Shopping centres have also longer opening hours.

Shops are closed on Sundays. In larger cities you can however go shopping in supermarkets located at the railway stations for instance. You can also buy foodstuffs at many petrol stations on Sundays and holidays.

You can pay by debit card (Bankomatkarte) or credit card in most large shops, such as supermarkets.

3.4 Opening a Bank Account

You are generally required to present valid identification with photo (passport, personal ID or a driver’s license) in order to open a current account (an account to which your salary is paid “Gehaltskonto”).

More details are available at banks and financial institutions.

3.5 Motor Vehicles

You must always carry a reflective safety vest in fluorescent yellow or orange, a breakdown triangle and vehicle first-aid case. Austrian motorways are subject to toll fees, the required motorway vignette can be purchased at motorway service stations and newsagents/tobacconists (Trafik).

Additional information:

3.5.1 Driving License

Driver’s licenses which have been issued in other EU/EEA countries are also valid in Austria. You must report every change of address (primary residence address, Hauptwohnsitz) to the authority responsible for the area of your principal residence. The following applies to Swiss Citizens: the driver's license must be reissued by the competent regional district administrative authority or the Federal Police Headquarters (Bundespolizeidirektion). The prerequisite of reissue is a completed examination by a public health officer (Amtsarzt).

3.5.2 Motor Vehicle Licenses

When relocating to Austria you are allowed to drive a vehicle with foreign registration plates for one month; within this period you must apply for official Austrian vehicle registration papers (Typenschein).

Subsequently, you must take out third-party insurance with one of the many insurance companies or furnish a proof of already existing insurance coverage. Within the EU there is freedom of choice regarding motor vehicle insurance companies. The motor vehicle can principally be insured in any EU member state with an authorised insurance company. The final traffic registration is performed at the registration department of your selected insurance company.

The websites specified below will provide further details regarding the tests and documents required for the final registration. Vehicles with an EU operating license do not require a separate permit in Austria (from 1st of July 2007).

3.6.2 Important Details regarding Housing

In Austria 41 percent of new housing is comprised of detached and semi-detached houses and 54 percent of new flats are in residential buildings divided into several flats. In towns and built-up areas there are large numbers of rented, housing association and owner-occupied flats in multi-storey buildings; detached and semi-detached houses predominate in rural areas.

Apartment rents vary depending on the region. The rent for an average apartment in 2011 (rent, repayments/annuities for owner-occupied apartments and operating costs) was least expensive in Burgenland at 4.34 Euros per square meter and most expensive in Salzburg at 6.14 Euros per square meter. Rent per square meter depends on various factors such as proximity to transport, infrastructure, residential area and fittings, fixtures and furnishings. Smaller apartments are generally more expensive per square meter than larger ones, and in addition to rent, operating costs (about 25 percent of the net rent), heating, gas and electricity costs must also be taken into account.
Rents for the majority of principal-tenant housing (Hauptmietwohnung), council housing (Gemeindewohnung) and association housing (Genossenschaftswohnung) are regulated throughout Austria by the Rent Act; as a rule, detached houses are generally not regulated by the Rent Act. Exception: statutory periods of notice are also valid for detached houses.

Before you conclude a rental or purchase agreement, it is advisable to seek out an appropriate consultation agency (Tenant Associations (Mietervereinigungen), Austrian Tenant Protection Association (Mieterschutzverband), Consumer Information Association (Verein für Konsumenteninformation), Chamber of Labour (Arbeiterkammer), etc.) in order to verify the legal validity of the agreement. The aforesaid consultation agencies will assist you in all issues related to rental law.

4. SEEKING EMPLOYMENT IN AUSTRIA

Pursuant to Austria's membership in the European Union, EU/EEA citizens, Swiss citizens and their family members (spouses, children, stepchildren and adopted children) are entitled to live and work in Austria without work permits in accordance with the principle of “free movement of labour.” The transitional provisions are deemed generally applicable to citizens of Romania and Bulgaria. (Please refer to section 4.9.)

4.1 Seeking Employment from the EU/EEA Countries and Switzerland in Austria

Prior to coming to Austria, you can obtain information and use various services on the Internet:

- seeking employment, province information, regional job opportunities using EURES
- seeking employment using the AMS (Public Employment Service Austria) website; you can also register online in the eJob-Room
- AMS (Public Employment Service Austria) services: career focus test (career compass), interactive application training, application coach (application tips, etc.)
- Information provided by the AMS (Public Employment Service Austria): career information database (BIS, Berufsinformationsdatenbank), career lexica, qualifications barometer (Qualifikationsbarometer; labour market trends, opportunities on the Austrian labour market based on qualifications), further education database (Weiterbildungsdatenbank), career information centres (Berufsinformationszentrum, BIZ), barrier-free access to AMS offices, unemployment benefits
- Public Employment Service Austria (AMS) information for young people: workroom (Arbeitszimmer), Your Choice
- employment seekers can obtain information on claiming unemployment benefits from the employment service or the competent authority in their home country (also see section 8.4.2)
- English information on services provided by the Public Employment Service Austria (AMS), living and working conditions can be found on http://www.ams.at/english.html.

After arriving in Austria you have to observe the following when seeking employment:

- to be able to claim unemployment benefits from your country of origin in Austria (such as unemployment benefits) it is necessary to personally register at the competent office in Austria
- assistance during employment seeking as well as career advisory services can be received from the competent offices

4.2 EURES (European Employment Services)

You can find out about job vacancies in Austria and obtain other information about Austria by contacting the EURES network at the competent employment service office in the EU/EEA countries/Switzerland.

The EURES website informs job seekers amongst others about living and working conditions as well as job opportunities in the individual regions of the EU/EEA states and in Switzerland as well as lists job vacancies. Additionally you can post your personal CV online which can be viewed by potential employers.

More than 700 specially trained EURES advisors work in the public employment services in all EU/EEA countries and Switzerland to support and advise citizens seeking a job in another EU/EEA country or Switzerland. You can find your EURES advisers responsible for the desired region using the EURES website.

4.3 Public Employment Service Austria (AMS)

The Public Employment Service, better known as the Arbeitsmarktservice (AMS) (Public Employment Service Austria) offers their services in regional AMS offices.

The Public Employment Service Austria (AMS) is responsible for consultation, job referral, financial support and ensuring livelihood (such as unemployment benefits and emergency assistance benefits) for persons who are permanent residents of Austria and are currently residing in Austria.

Job seekers and unemployed persons may register at their local Public Employment Service Austria office (the competence follows their principal residence, also see http://www.ams.at).

At the AMS website you can also find more details regarding

→ eJob-Room:
The Austrian Employment Service offers this service both to registered individuals and all other interested people. It offers an overview of all vacant positions in Austria and neighbouring regions (South Tyrol, Switzerland, etc.) reported to the Public Employment Service Austria, AMS. You can search for a particular position by selecting the requested employment form, place of work, commencement date of employment, occupational groups/occupations. This service is available to both registered and unregistered users.

Note: You can also register for the eJob-Room even when your place of residence is still outside Austria.

Registered users are additionally offered the following services:
• publishing of applications in the eJob-Room
• use of the extended job vacancies listing (the eJob-Room vacancies)

eJob-Room offers are free of charge.

4.5 Private Recruitment Agencies

The role of private requirement agencies is growing. Primarily highly qualified positions are nearly exclusively offered on the market through HR consulting companies and agencies. The Public Employment Service Austria cooperates with a large number of these agencies. At the website of the Public Employment Service Austria (AMS) you can also find links to the job-exchanges (Jobbörsen) of many large companies.

Additional information:
http://www.ams.at/sfa/14800.html (useful links)

4.6 “Hidden” Labour Market

Some of the job vacancies or newspaper job ads never reach the offices of the Public Employment Service Austria (AMS). Therefore, it may prove worthwhile to send unsolicited letters (i.e. without any reference to a specific job advertisement) to potentially interested employers.

Additional information:
http://www.herold.at (addresses of enterprises and businesses)
http://www.ams.at/sfa/14800.html#Telefon-/Branchenverzeichnisse (links to business directories)

It is also recommended to ask your neighbours, relatives, friends and acquaintances whether they know about any vacant positions.
4.7 Au-pairs

Young people from abroad may work in Austria as an au pair for a specified period of time. Au pairs are accepted in the host family as a family member and are integrated into everyday family life. In return the family expects the au-pair to help with childcare and light housework. In addition to working in the household and performing childcare, the au pair has to attend a language school or another course.

Essential prerequisites for working as an au pair are as follows:

- age of 18 to 28 years
- prior childcare experience as well as enjoying working with children
- readiness to adjust to other cultures and different lifestyles
- 2–3 evenings per week of babysitting
- minimum skills in German (school level or one semester studies or language course; certificates are to be furnished)
- use of an authorised agency when referred an au-pair position
- maximum of one year as au-pair in Austria in the last five years
- the au-pair has no criminal record

The Housemaid and Domestic Workers Act (HGHAG) regulates employment of au-pairs. The remuneration follows the minimum wage tariff for au pairs. Most au-pair agencies assist au pairs with formalities prior to the au-pair assignment (selection of host family, travel etc.) as well as during their assignment (contact in case of problems, organization of periodic au-pair meetings etc.)

Au pairs from the EU/EEA states and Switzerland enjoy freedom of establishment and do not require a residence permit! Romanians or Bulgarians have to obtain a “registration certificate” (Anmeldebescheinigung) from the residence authorities (district administrative authority (Bezirkshauptmannschaft) or the competent municipal authority (Magistrat) for a stay exceeding three months.

The host family must obtain a confirmation authorising au-pair employment (Anzeigenbestätigung) from the AMS (http://www.ams.at/_docs/Anzeigebestaetigung_AB_A_AuPair_4_7-2007_V04-09.pdf).

Additional information:

- http://www.ams.at/_docs/Au-pair-Mustervertrag_08.pdf (au-pair standard form of contract)

Contact the Public Employment Service Austria (AMS) or any of AMS regional offices to obtain additional information about working as an au pair for citizens of non-EU/EEA countries (a special residence permit is required).

Au-pairs are not admitted to the regular labour market and do not obtain any entitlement to work nor any right to free access to the labour market after expiry of their au pair contract. The host family is also not entitled to continue the employment of the au pair.
4.8 Seasonal Workers

The demand for seasonal workers is especially concentrated in the area of tourism as well as agriculture and forestry and can only be partially met by the Austrian workforce. There is especially a recurrent need for harvesters (e.g. asparagus or grape harvesting) from spring to autumn in the Eastern regions of Austria (Lower Austria, Upper Austria, Burgenland and Vienna) which are predominantly characterized by intensive land cultivation. Skilled workers (skilled restaurant workers, cooks) as well as auxiliary workers (kitchen help, cleaning staff, housekeeping staff, waitress help, bartenders etc.) are especially sought after in the winter sport regions of Western Austria from November to March, and in all tourist regions throughout Austria from May to October.

In the area of tourism, special labour law provisions are effective (e.g. specific working time during the week or month, respective regulations concerning rest breaks and days off.)

Information on your rights and obligations as an employee should be obtained from the Chamber of Labour and trade unions prior to starting a new job.

4.9 Transitional Stipulations Applying to Bulgarian and Romanian Citizens on the Austrian Labour Market

EU citizens from Bulgaria and Romania only have free access to the Austrian labour market subject to specific conditions; these transitional provisions applicable to these citizens remain presumably in effect until 2013!

Please note! EU citizens from the Czech Republic, Slovenia, Slovakia, Hungary, Poland, Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania have had free access to the Austrian labour market since 1st of May 2011 and require no work permit.

Please note! Special regulations apply to skilled and qualified staff from Bulgaria and Romania. (http://www.ams.at/sfa/14104_13758.html)

Additional information:
- http://www.ams.at/sfa/14074.html (foreign citizens)

When Bulgarian and Romanian citizens intend seeking employment on the Austrian labour market

- and have not yet found a job, they can go to the Public Employment Service Austria (AMS) website;
- and have already found a job, your employer must apply to AMS for an employment permit (Beschäftigungsbewilligung).

Please note! Specific labour market access regulations are valid for persons with key qualifications as well as seasonal workers originating from Bulgaria and Romania.
Bulgarian and Romanian citizens able to furnish an AMS confirmation of their free access to the labour market ("freedom of movement confirmation") may be employed without an employment permit (Beschäftigungsbewilligung); i.e. they are entitled to free job selection in Austria.

Such confirmation is to be provided to Bulgarian and Romanian citizens who as of 1st of May 2007 or from a later point have already been legally employed in Austria for an uninterrupted period of at least 12 months i.e. are in possession of an employment permit (Beschäftigungsbewilligung), a work permit (Arbeitserlaubnis), a certificate of exemption (Befreiungsschein) or a certificate of residence (Niederlassungsnachweis).

The following also applies to family members (spouse, children up to the age of 21; irrespective of their citizenship) of such Bulgarian and Romanian citizens already enjoying freedom of movement and having a legally valid, joint residence in Austria with such new EU citizen: These persons are entitled to such confirmation from the very first day of their stay in Austria simply on the grounds of their being a family member of an EU citizen enjoying freedom of establishment starting with the very first day of their residence in Austria. Family members able to furnish an AMS confirmation of their free access to labour market may be employed without the employment permit (Beschäftigungsbewilligung); i.e. they are entitled to free job selection in Austria.

4.10 Applications

Letters of application and curriculum vitae should be drafted in German, unless the job vacancy advertisement specifically requests that application documents be prepared in another language.

If you have made any arrangements – irrespective of whether on the phone or in person – for a job interview, you should bring your CV, diplomas and work certificates to the appointment. Contact the Austrian Employment Service website („Application Coach (Bewerbungscoach)” at http://bewerbungsportal.ams.or.at/) if you need any assistance drafting your application.

A complete application includes:

➔ a letter of application
➔ a resume (Curriculum Vitae)
➔ certificates (Maturazeugnis (A-level/High School certificates), work certificates/references and/or course certificates or confirmation of attendance of important technical courses and seminars)
➔ applicant’s photograph

5. TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF EMPLOYMENT

5.1 Labour Law – Overview

Austrian labour law covers the rights and obligations of employees. This includes amongst others the following acts and legal stipulations:

- Salaried Employees Act (Angestelltengesetz)
- Labour Relations Act (Arbeitsverfassungsgesetz)
- Employees Severance Pay Act (ArbeiterInnenabfertigungsgesetz)
- Employment Safeguarding Act (Arbeitsplatzsicherungsgesetz)
- Alien Employment Act (Ausländerbeschäftigungsgesetz)
- Act on Continued Payment of Wages and Salaries (Entgeltfortzahlungsgesetz)
- Equal Treatment Act (Gleichbehandlungsgesetz)
- Maternity Protection
- Vacation Act (Urlaubsgrazet)
- Employee Protection
- Working Hours Act (Arbeitszeitgesetz)
- Women’s Night-Work Act (Frauennachtarbeitsgesetz)

Additional information:
http://www.oegb.at (Austrian Trade Union Federation (ÖGB))

5.2 Employee Representations

5.2.1 Chamber of Labour and Austrian Trade Unions

Employees are automatically members of the Chamber of Labour which provides them with legal representation if necessary. There is also the possibility of joining a trade union through an application process.

The Chamber of Labours as well as Austrian trade unions are independent and democratic institutions which represent the social, economic, professional and cultural interests of employees in Austria. They are independent democratic institutions:

Services offered by the Chambers of Labour and trade unions include amongst others:

- defence and recovery representation at a labour and social court (Arbeits- und Sozialgericht)
- legal advice on
  • women and family related issues
  • protection of apprentices and young workers
  • unemployment
  • social security (retirement matters)
  • wage and salary tax matters
  • minimum wage
  • collective agreements
- basic protection and consultation regarding
  • employee protection
  • environmental protection
  • consumer protection

The Austrian Chamber of Labour offers legal assistance free of charge, both on the phone and on their premises related to many issues under the Austrian Labour Act, industrial safety, minimum wages and consumer protection, etc. The Austrian Trade Union Federation offers counselling services in principle to their members; non-members can obtain once-only free-of-charge legal advice.
The Chamber of Labour and trade unions are part of the so-called economic and social partnership and negotiate issues related to salaries/wages and prices with the Austrian Federal and Provincial Chambers of Labour. They assist the government in drafting legislation and factual issues which fall under the responsibility of social interest groups. Trade unions for instance negotiate the collective agreements for various industry sectors within the framework of the social partnership. A collective agreement is an agreement annually renegotiated for all employees within a certain sector with the employers. A collective agreement sets equal minimum standards for wages and salaries ("minimum wages") and working conditions for all employees within a certain sector.

Please contact the legal department of your provincial chamber of labour for more details on minimum wages and salaries applicable to a certain sector.

All trade unions (trade unions of different branches) are part of the Austrian Trade Union Federation (Österreichischer Gewerkschaftsbund (ÖGB)), the Austrian Federation of Chambers of Labour (Arbeiterkammer Österreich) is the umbrella organisation which incorporates all Austrian Chambers of Labour.

5.2.2 Works Council

Employees are represented in the enterprise by works councils. The works council is the central representative body of the company’s staff. The works council represents the staff in contact with the company owner/employer. Works council members have for instance a right of co-determination regarding amongst others recruitment, termination and dismissal of employees.

5.3 Employment Relations

Austrian labour law distinguishes between the following forms of employment:

- Employment contract (Arbeitsvertrag): concluded between an employer and an employee.
- Short-term contracts with independent contractors (freier Dienstvertrag): concluded between a principal (i.e. customer) and an independent contractor.
- Quasi-employment contract (arbeitnehmerähnliches Beschäftigungsverhältnis): includes both 'new self-employed' persons (Neue Selbständige) and those employed on the basis of a contract for work and services (WerkvertragsnehmerInnen), who require a business license.

5.3.1 Employment Contract and Position Specifications Statement

An employment contract (Arbeitsvertrag) is defined as a binding arrangement whereby one person undertakes to perform work for another person. The conclusion of an employment contract is in principle not subject to any form requirements. The employment contract may be concluded in writing, by oral agreement or conclusive action (e.g. taking up the position followed by subsequent remuneration).

When no written employment contract is concluded, the employer is to pass on a written record of major rights and obligations arising from this employment agreement to the employee, the so-called position specification statement (Dienstzettel) immediately after the commencement of the employment: The work card is free of charge and serves the purpose of documenting proof.

The following points are to be included in a position specification statement:

- name and address of the employer
- name and address of the employee
- the date of the employment commencement
- probationary period
- in the case of an employment contract concluded for a fixed term:
  - the termination date of the employment
- in the case of an employment contract concluded for an indefinite term:
  - employment termination notice period and date of termination
- usual place of work
- any classification of the position in a general scheme
- foreseen duties and responsibilities
- starting remuneration:
  - base salary or wages
  - additional remuneration components (e.g. special payment)
- due dates of the remuneration
- annual vacation entitlements
- agreed normal daily and weekly working hours
- specification of any collective agreement or any other company-specific agreements applicable to the employment contract.

Exception: Apprenticeship contracts (Lehrverträge) must be concluded in writing!

Additional information:
http://www.arbeiterkammer.at/www-49.html

5.3.1.1 Working Hours and Vacation Entitlements

According to law, full-time employment (Vollzeitarbeit) is:

- a working day of 8 hours (within a 24-hour period)
- a weekly working time of 40 hours (working period from Monday to Sunday inclusive)

Collective bargaining agreements have shortened the working week in many branches of business. A surcharge of a minimum of 50 percent or compensatory time off is applicable for overtime work.

If the daily working time exceeds six hours it must be interrupted by a half an hour break. This break is unpaid and is not included in the working hours.

Other working hours arrangements are possible: minimum income employment, part-time employment, seasonal employment etc.).
Workers are granted a vacation entitlement (Urlaubsanspruch) for at least five weeks (= thirty working days) per working year; this also applies to minimum income employees and part-time employees. In addition to the regular salary an employee in Austria is additionally paid a vacation bonus (so-called 13th monthly salary) and a Christmas bonus (so-called 14th salary), each amounting to a full monthly salary if set forth in the collective bargaining agreement or employment contract; these bonus payments are however subject to lower taxes. PLEASE NOTE! There is no legal entitlement to the vacation bonus (so-called 13th salary) and the Christmas bonus (so-called 14th salary). You are only entitled to the vacation bonus (so-called 13th salary) and the Christmas bonus (so-called 14th salary) when this has been contractually agreed.

5.3.1.2 Termination

Every employee who has concluded an employment contract or has a position specifications statement is in principle protected by Austrian labour law through the termination notice deadlines. Termination notice periods and termination dates are mostly regulated by collective agreements and employer/works council agreements; otherwise they are regulated by the Salaried Employees Act (Angestelltengesetz) or the Civil Code (Allgemeines Bürgerliches Gesetzbuch, ABGB).

Termination by the employer

For salaried employees: the Salaried Employees Act regulates the minimum termination deadlines. The stipulations of the Austrian Civil Code are deemed generally applicable to employees with remuneration below the low-income limit with working time of less than one fifth of working time under full employment.

For waged employees: the termination notice is two weeks pursuant to the Austrian Civil Code (ABGB); however, the collective agreements, employer/works council agreements normally foresee longer respectively in some cases even shorter termination notice periods.

Termination by the employee

For salaried employees: one month (at the end of the month) or as regulated by the respective collective bargaining agreement

For waged employees: 2 weeks (Austrian Civil Code) or as regulated by the respective collective bargaining agreement

When your employment has been terminated you can appeal against the termination under certain circumstances. It is decisive however to immediately after a written or oral termination notice contact the works council, the Chamber of Labour or your trade union representative. PLEASE NOTE! When appealing against a termination notice you have to observe deadlines. You can appeal against termination notice before the Labour Court (Arbeitsgericht).

5.3.2 Persons Working on Short-Term Contracts as Independent Contractors

This type of employment (freier Dienstvertrag) is characterised as follows:

- no or low level of personal dependence
- independent contractors may engage subcontractors to fulfil their obligations
- they primarily use their own resources
- they are not incorporated into the corporate organisation
- you are normally paid by the hour

In contrast to the contract for work and labour, there is no warranty to produce a certain work.

Independent contractors with a monthly remuneration exceeding the minimum salary limit (in 2011: € 374.02) have to be registered with the responsible regional health insurance fund and hence enjoy health insurance coverage. They are entitled to sickness benefits starting with the fourth day of occupational incapacity; they thus enjoy accident, unemployment and pension insurance as well as are subject to the Insolvency Insurance Law (Insolvenzentgeltsicherungsgesetz, IESG). Independent contractors are also entitled to receive a position specification statement (Dienstzettel).

Note: independent contractors only enjoy limited protection under the Austrian Labour Law. Without an appropriate agreement between the employer and the independent contractor there is however no legal entitlement to special benefits, vacation, a release from performance obligation and protection against dismissal. They may however receive severance pay when the applicable prerequisites have been satisfied and are subject to the Corporate Employee and Free-Lancer Pension Law (Betriebliches Mitarbeiter- und Selbständigenvorsorgegesetz, BMSVG).

The employer must take out accident insurance for any persons receiving remuneration below the legally stipulated limit (monthly income up to € 374.02 in 2011). Voluntary health and pension insurance are possible; persons receiving remuneration below the aforesaid limit have to apply at the competent regional health insurance fund themselves.

Independent contractors have to pay income taxes when their annual income exceeds certain amount. They are classified as entrepreneurs and have to apply for a tax identification number with the responsible fiscal authorities.

5.3.3 Contract for Work and Labour

Pursuant to the Austrian General Civil Code (Allgemeines Bürgerliches Gesetzbuch (ABGB)), in a contract for work and labour (Werkvertrag), a contractor undertakes to carry out a particular service or work and the customer promises to pay for the service or work. In contrast to the employment contract or persons working as independent short-term contractors, in the contract for work and labour the result of the services rendered is decisive. The contractor is responsible for successfully performing the services (i.e. the specified service) or achieving a specific result.

„Neue Selbständige“ or “new self-employed persons“ (i.e. “freelancers“) perform any type of commercial services not requiring a business license (Gewerbeschein) and which are not services rendered by independent contractors. This category includes professionals such as: authors, consultants, translators and psychotherapists.
Characteristics of contracts for work and labour:

- personal and economic independence from the principal (new: „WerkbestellerInnen“, approximate equivalent of contract assigner)
- no obligation to perform the work or service personally (sub-contracting is allowed)
- the contractor (new: „WerkunternehmerIn“, approximate equivalent of contract assignee) use their own resources
- they are not incorporated into the corporate organisation of the contract assigner

The contract for work and labour is deemed fulfilled with the performance of the contractual services. The completion of the agreed services and/or achievement of the result are deemed as automatic satisfaction of the obligation.

New self-employed persons with contracts for work and labour are always to report their activities to the Social Security Institution for Trade and Industry (Sozialversicherung der Gewerblichen Wirtschaft, SVA).

They have to pay their social security contributions

- when their yearly gross earnings from contracts for work and labour exceed € 6,453.36; or
- they additionally have concluded another employment contract or independent contractor’s contract or receive unemployment benefits and the gross annual income exceeds the amount of € 4,488.24 in the year 2011.
- The insurance limits do not apply in case of additional freelance contracts requiring compulsory insurance with the Social Security Institution for Trade and Industry (Sozialversicherungsanstalt der Gewerblichen Wirtschaft), for instance as a businessperson.

New self-employed persons/freelancers enjoy health, pension and accident insurance within the framework of self-employed insurance coverage. Special regulations are deemed applicable to unemployment insurance.

5.4 Educational Leave and Sabbaticals

Details are available at:

5.5 Family Hospice Leave

Employees are entitled to care for terminally ill family members, their life partners as well as their severely ill children living in the same household for a fixed period.

Additional information:
6. RECOGNITION OF FOREIGN DIPLOMAS & LICENSES

6.1 General

Foreign high-school graduation certificates issued by EU/EEA countries and Switzerland are in principle seen as equivalent to those issued in Austria when they are required for admission to an Austrian university. These certificates however must be issued by foreign educational institutions showing no major differences in comparison with the Austrian educational system. If any differences are determined, the university or the university admissions commission may declare these as equivalent for the purpose of being admitted to studying after for instance having passed appropriate additional examinations.

The prerequisite for the recognition of your university degree in Austria is that the institution you graduated from is recognised in Austria as a post-secondary educational institution (university, academy or any other equivalent institution). If you want to use your academic degree along with your name, you are in principle entitled to do so however only using the wording stated on the original certificate. If you want to commence postgraduate studies, you may be required to satisfy additional requirements (passing of exams, etc.). Please contact the management of the desired university or academy or the responsible university department.

Recognition entitling to practicing your profession grants the right to be admitted to certain occupational practice based on foreign qualifications. This is normally true for the so-called „regulated“ occupational activities. A profession is deemed regulated when commencement or practicing of such is linked to certain qualifications pursuant to legal or administrative regulations. The required qualifications are based on different educational levels depending on the profession. The list of regulated professions contains around 100 designations. It is state’s responsibility to define the respective regulated professions and the corresponding admission regulations. With the EU/EEA and Switzerland the regulated profession qualifications of applicants originating from these states must be recognised when the applicants are entitled to practice their profession. Please contact the authorities responsible for your profession.

When working for private enterprises recognition of your qualifications is mostly regulated by the employment contract and does not require any dedicated proceedings.

Diploma certificates not regulated by corresponding directives and professional qualifications not recognised as equivalent based on occupational practice in the country of origin may be recognised in the course of nostrification proceedings. Nostrification is to be understood as recognition of graduation at a foreign university as equivalent to graduating from a bachelor, master, diploma or doctorate course at an Austrian university, college or university of applied sciences. This means that they are deemed fully equivalent to graduating from an Austrian university and entitle to using the corresponding Austrian academic degree and practicing the profession which requires graduation from a university in Austria. Please contact the competent university and/or the university of applied sciences inspector office (Fachhochschulrat).

Please contact NARIC Austria if you have any general questions about academic qualifications.

7. TAXES

7.1 Income Tax and Employee Tax Assessment

Any person who maintains their principal residence in Austria is liable to pay taxes on all income derived from both foreign and domestic sources.

In order to avoid double taxation, Austria has concluded double-taxation agreements with all of its neighbouring countries and the EU/EEA countries. Taxes are principally paid in the country of principal residence, irrespective of the country in which the income has been earned. Specific tax regulations are deemed applicable to cross-border commuters, i.e. persons living in one state and working in another and regularly returning to their place of residence, to avoid double taxation.

In Austria, income taxes and social security contributions etc. of each employee derived from their employment are deducted at source by the employer and paid directly to the Austrian fiscal authorities or to the responsible social security institution. New self-employed/freelancers, contract assignees, and self-employed/freelancers with a business license (Gewerbeschein) are responsible for payment of taxes and social security contributions themselves.

The Austrian income-tax system is based on progressive taxation rates.

Additional information: http://www.arbeiterkammer.at (gross/net calculator (Brutto-Netto Rechner); tax check (Steuercheck))

Who is liable for tax?

- employees and pensioners with a taxable annual income exceeding 11,000 Euros;
  taxes are deducted at source by the employer or the pension insurance institution (Pensionsversicherungsanstalt);

- self-employed/freelancers from an annual income exceeding 11,000 Euros.

When should you file a tax declaration? (if you have not yet been contacted by the Tax Office)

- if you have any other income in addition to your taxable income from employment (e.g. from contracts on work and labour or from rentals) exceeding 730.00 Euros and your total annual income is above 12,000 Euros, then you have to file an income tax declaration (Einkommensteuererklärung) (form E 1, E 1A).
  Deadline for filing: By April 30 or up to June 30 of the following year in the case of an online-assessment

- if, during the course of the calendar year, you have at least from time to time earned two or more taxable incomes then you have to submit an Employee Tax Assessment Declaration (form L 1).
  Deadline for filing: September 30th of the following year

- if your income does not involve taxable income from employment and the annual income exceeds 11,000 Euros, then you have to submit an income tax declaration (Einkommensteuererklärung) (form E 1, E 1A).
  Deadline for filing: By April 30 or up to June 30 of the following year in the case of an online-assessment
If you receive income as an independent contractor you have to report this to the competent fiscal authorities within one month. An appropriate form will be sent to you. Even if your income is too low to be taxable, you have to fill in and return the income tax declaration form to your fiscal authorities.

8. SOCIAL SECURITY

Registration with the appropriate social security institution is mandatory; every person is to pay social security contributions for themselves and their family members. Employers are responsible for registering their employees with the appropriate social security institution. Every person and their family members are assigned a social security number with the registration. Social security contributions of employees and independent contractors are automatically deducted at source by the employer.

The payment of social security contributions is shared by the employer and employee. The employer is responsible for paying both shares to the responsible social security institution. The amount of social security contributions (= contribution rates) depends whether the employee is a blue or white-collar employee, apprentice, minimum-income employee, etc.

In Austria, employees and independent contractors whose income exceeds the low-income limit (€ 374.02 per month in 2011) are covered by social security.

Employees with remuneration below the low-income limit as well as students are only covered by parts of the social security system (accident insurance). Employees with income below the income limit are eligible for voluntary health and/or pension insurance.

Self-employed persons (new self-employed/free-lancers, self-employed/free-lancers with a business license (Gewerbeschein) etc.) are responsible for paying their social security contributions.

Social security benefits:

- Health insurance including compulsory maternity protection: free insurance protection for family members (subject to certain preconditions) and childcare allowance.
- Accident insurance: protection against accidents at the workplace and vocational illnesses and their consequences, e.g. invalidity and occupational incapacity etc.
- Pension insurance: old-age pension benefits etc.
- Unemployment insurance: these are for instance, unemployment benefit payments, social welfare, pension advances;

Further benefits:

- Means tested minimum benefit (replaces social welfare) as complementary benefit of the social security and/or as a benefit which may be granted when no pension insurance, unemployment benefits are being received;
- personal care and long-term care insurance (Pflegevorsorge and Pflegeversicherung)

8.1 Health Insurance

There are many health insurance institutions in Austria; all health insurance institutions are under the umbrella of the Main Association of Austrian Social Security Institutions (Hauptverband der Österreichischen Sozialversicherungsträger): The competent insurance institution is determined by both the place of residence and occupation. A free choice of insurance institution is not allowed; the competent insurance company will be assigned to you.

Health insurance (Krankenversicherung) covers amongst others free treatment by medical doctors and hospitals as well as sickness benefits. The prerequisite for treatment at hospitals, medical practices, walk-in clinics is presentation of an “e-card” (an electronic health insurance card) where all personal data (name, insurance number, etc.) of the insured person are stored. A referral note is additionally required for referral to specialists since the e-card does not store any medical data. Your e-card will be sent to you and your family members within fourteen days by your health insurance company following the registration with your competent health insurance institution. The back of the e-card corresponds to the European social security card. The e-card ensures free-of-charge medical treatment in the European Union states.

Health insurance coverage is applicable when you

➔ are employed or self-employed (please note: minimum income employees receive health insurance upon application)
➔ receive an unemployment benefit or ➔ receive a pension benefit
➔ or receive a weekly maternity allowance, or childcare allowance

You may co-insure your family members (your spouse and children) provided they are resident in Austria. Minors up to 18 years of age are co-insured. Minors attending schools, vocational training or universities can be co-insured free-of-charge up to 24 respectively 26 years of age. Spouses with children can be co-insured free of charge. The co-insurance for childless spouses entails an additional contribution rate of 3.4% of the assessment basis of the income of the insured spouse. The employer must be correspondingly informed of planned co-insurance of family members.

Other health insurance benefits include amongst others: dental treatment, rehabilitation, home nursing, recuperation assistance, health protection benefits, medical check-ups under the mother-child pass system.

Prescription medicines are obtained at pharmacies for € 5.10 per prescription item (effective 2011). Patient’s annual medication costs are limited to a maximum of two percent of their net income. When the medication costs exceed this amount then the patient is automatically exempt from prescription fees.
Employed persons are registered by their employers with their competent health insurance institution; self-employed persons (new self-employed/free-lancers, self-employed/free-lancers with a business license (Gewerbeschein)) have to personally contact their competent health insurance company (Social Security Institution of Trade and Industry (Sozialversicherungsanstalt der Gewerblichen Wirtschaft)).

8.3 Pensions Insurance

In Austria females currently reach pensionable age at 60 and men at 65.

The following applies to EU/EEA citizens and Swiss citizens:

Pursuant to Austrian law you are entitled to pension benefits if you have been self-employed or employed for over one year and have paid pension insurance contributions. Insurance periods below one year will be added to the pension insurance periods obtained in your home country.

8.4.2 Unemployment Benefits from the EU/EEA States and Switzerland

After consultation with the public employment services of your country of origin you may under certain circumstances receive benefits from your country of origin over an approved period while seeking employment in Austria. It is essential to register with your competent public employment service office prior to departure to Austria stating that you are intending to seek employment in Austria. Under certain circumstances you may also be entitled to receive benefits attributable to insurance periods abroad.

8.4.2.1 Receiving Unemployment Benefits from EU States while Seeking Employment in Austria

If you want to receive your unemployment benefits originating from the EU zone when seeking employment in Austria, you have to contact your competent public employment service office in your country of origin, apply with them for your unemployment benefits as well as fill in the form U2 („portable document“ U2) and have it confirmed. This form includes the deadline for registering with the regional office in Austria. After having registered with the competent regional Public Employment Service Austria office, the foreign public employment service will be immediately informed of your registration as job seeker in Austria. This results in the foreign public employment service releasing payments of your benefits. This is possible for a period of three months – if however your reference period ends earlier („maximum rate“) then up to this point. The precise duration of this „service export“ is always determined at the employment service of your home country.

If you have not found employment in Austria within the period stipulated on the form, you remain entitled to your benefits only if you immediately return to your country of origin in good time. It is essential to observe all the information you have been provided on this topic in your country of origin.
8.4.2.2 Aggregating Insurance Periods from Employment in the EU/EEA States and Switzerland

When verifying your unemployment benefit eligibility, insurance periods in the EU/EEA states or Switzerland will also be considered if you had been employed in Austria with mandatory unemployment insurance for at least one day directly before submitting the application (the so-called „one-day rule”). In order to be able to have the foreign insurance periods recognised in Austria it is necessary to have either the portable document U1 or the E 301 form (certificate concerning the periods to be taken into account for the granting of unemployment benefits) filled in and confirmed by the competent public employment service office in your country of origin. Which of the two forms is used depends on the country of origin. The furnishing of the two forms may accelerate the assessment of the entitlement when submitting an application in Austria.

In the case of cross-border commuters the foreign insurance periods are considered immediately – the aforesaid „one-day rule“ does not apply to this group.

Please refer to the AMS website for details regarding prerequisites to be satisfied in order to become eligible for unemployment insurance benefits in Austria (section „Financial Benefits“).

8.4.2.3 Receiving Unemployment Benefits from Norway, Island, Liechtenstein and Switzerland while Seeking Employment in Austria

Norway, Iceland and Liechtenstein are the EEA states to which special regulations apply; this is also true for Switzerland.

If you want to seek employment in Austria, you can transfer your unemployment benefit claims to Austria when you have been available for employment referral for at least four weeks in your country of origin without any success and you register with the competent Public Employment Service Austria office within 7 days from your arrival in Austria. If you fail to find employment in Austria within the approved unemployment benefits eligibility period you have to immediately return to your country of origin in good time or you will lose your entitlement to the original unemployment benefits. It is essential to observe all the information you have been provided on this topic in your country of origin. Claiming the benefits is limited for a maximum period of three months.

The prerequisite for transferring your entitlement to unemployment benefits is to contact your competent public employment service prior to departure to Austria and have the E 303 form confirmed by them.

8.5 Means Tested Minimum Benefits

The means tested minimum benefits are foreseen for people having no reasonable funds to pay for their living or of their family members. The amount of the means tested minimum benefits is uniformly regulated throughout Austria and amounts to 752.94 Euros for single households in 2011.

The means tested minimum benefits are not a social security benefit but a reformed social welfare of the federal provinces. The affected unemployed should in particular benefit from the introduction of a uniform minimum benefit, the broad removal of recourse, introduction of an asset exemption amount and advantageous procedural law. Persons receiving means tested minimum benefits and able to work will be correspondingly noted at the Public Employment Service Austria as seeking employment.

EU/EEA citizens are only unrestrictedly entitled to means tested minimum benefits if they are in Austria as employees or have lived here for over five years.

The competent district administrative authority (district administrative authority (Bezirkshauptmannschaft), municipal authority (Magistrat); social council offices in Vienna (Sozialzentrum)) decides whether the means tested minimum benefits will be granted. This authority also accepts the applications and makes the corresponding payments.
Additionally, the Public Employment Service Austria provides basic information on means tested minimum benefits. Depending on the agreement with the federal provinces, the Public Employment Service Austria also provides initial applications for means tested minimum benefits and accepts these.

Please contact your competent office of the Public Employment Service Austria in your province to obtain information whether the means tested minimum benefits regulations have already been implemented.

YOU CAN CALL US at the social line of the Federal Ministry of Labour and Consumer Protection at 0800/20 16 11 (Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday from 8 am to 12 am and Thursday from 8 am to 4 pm):

9. LIVING WITH CHILDREN

9.1 Maternity Protection

9.1.1 White and Blue Collar Employees and Minimum Income Employees

As a rule, pregnant working mothers are entitled to maternity leave which starts eight weeks prior to delivery and lasts eight to sixteen weeks after delivery with an absolute ban on employment during this period.

Upon confirmation of pregnancy, you should immediately inform your employer. From this point on you are protected against dismissal and termination. During the compulsory maternity protection period and during parental leave, dismissal is only possible in exceptional cases (i.e. closure of a firm) and under court approval.

Salaried and waged female employees generally receive a maternity weekly allowance (Wochengeld) during the compulsory maternity protection period under certain circumstances. Furthermore, for female employees who are not self-employed their contractual employment remains upheld during their compulsory maternity protection period.

Self-insured minimum income employees are also entitled to weekly allowance. In this case, the weekly allowance amounts to 8 Euros per day (2011).

Details regarding the amount of the maternity weekly allowance can be obtained from the competent health insurance institution.

Competent authority:
The health insurance institution (Krankenkasse)

Additional information:
http://www.arbeiterkammer.at/online/wochengeld-12596.html

9.1.2 Independent Female Contractors and Female Contract Assignees

They are not protected by the Maternity Protection Act. Independent (female) contractors do however receive weekly maternity allowance related to their income.

Details regarding the amount of the maternity weekly allowance can be obtained from the competent health insurance institution.

Competent authority:
The health insurance institution (Krankenkasse)

9.1.3 Self-Employed Females

An entrepreneurial aid (Betriebshilfe) is foreseen for self-employed women running a business, i.e. replacement labour is provided for the business. Under certain circumstances they are also entitled to weekly maternity allowance. The weekly maternity allowance is primarily applicable to self-employed females with no business license (new self-employed/free-lancers). Such weekly allowance will only be granted respectively such entrepreneurial aid will only be provided when the compulsory insurance with the competent health insurance fund remains in force. The weekly maternity allowance in this case amounts to € 26.26 per day (2011).

Competent authority:
Social Security Institution for Trade and Industry (Sozialversicherungsanstalt der Gewerblichen Wirtschaft)

Additional information:

9.1.4 Mother-Child Pass

At the beginning of pregnancy, you should receive a Mother-Child Pass (Mutter-Kind-Pass), to be used for recording medical check-ups of the mother and unborn child and subsequently for recording vaccinations and check-ups during infancy and early childhood stages. You can obtain your mother-child pass from your gynaecologist, your general practitioner, your district public health office, the specialized outpatient services of your district health insurance fund, the outpatient services of hospitals with maternity clinical departments or from pregnancy consultation offices.

The mother-child pass check-ups are a prerequisite for the receipt of the full childcare allowance (Kinderbetreuungsgeld).

Additional information:

9.2 Parental Leave Allowance, Childcare Allowance and Parental Leave Time

Parental leave is deemed entitlement to release from performance obligations under employment contract pursuant to the Labour Law following birth of a child and after the expiry of the maternity protection period. During this period the parents are not entitled to remuneration however they are protected against dismissal and termination. Only one of the parents is entitled to parental leave or both of them in turns. Independent contractors are not entitled to parental leave. During the parental leave you can take on minimum income employment (monthly low-income limit in 2011: Euro 374.02).

The childcare allowance (Kinderbetreuungsgeld) can be received during this time provided that all prerequisites have been satisfied. Every child, including foster and adopted children, is eligible to receiving childcare allowance.

The childcare allowance amount depends on the duration of the paternal leave allowance. You can select one of the multiple models when applying for this allowance.

The differentiation is made between the income-interrelated and flat rate childcare allowance.
The flat-rate childcare allowance is paid when the following prerequisites have been satisfied:

- common household with the child
- at least one of the parents living in the same household with the child is entitled to receive family allowance (Familienbeihilfe)
- centre of their life is in Austria
- legal residence in Austria
- performance of the mother-child pass examinations – five during the pregnancy, five after giving birth

You can earn up to Euro 16,200 respectively up to 60 percent of your last income achieved in the calendar year prior to birth delivery in which no childcare allowance (Kinderbetreuungsgeld) in addition to the flat-rate childcare allowance.

Additional prerequisites including preceding employment are deemed applicable to the income-interrelated model.

Note: Childcare allowance is granted only for the youngest child. If another child is born when receiving such allowance, the eligibility to this allowance for the older child ends with the birth of the younger one. Childcare allowance will then be paid for the newborn. The second birth is to be immediately reported to the competent health insurance institution (you are obliged to make this notification). Special regulations apply to multiple births.

Competent authority:
Health insurance institution (in Vienna: childcare allowance customer centre (Kundencenter für Kinderbetreuungsgeld))

Additional information:
- http://www.arbeiterkammer.at/berufundfamilie/karenz.htm (parental leave)

Childcare allowance aid

Single parents and families with no or low-income can apply for an aid to the childcare allowance (Beihilfe zum Kinderbetreuungsgeld).

Note: The childcare allowance aid does not need to be paid back.

Additional information:

Recipients of childcare allowance and their children automatically enjoy the benefits of health insurance.
During or after receipt of the childcare allowance, unemployment benefits and social welfare may be applied for. However, the person receiving this benefit must remain available for the labour market.

Additional information:

Eligibility prerequisites for EU/EUA citizens and Swiss citizens:

The EEA directive 883/2004 applies to EU/EEA citizens and Swiss citizens. The member state where the parent is employed (employment state principle) is the overriding state responsible for payment of any family benefits. In the country of residence, an equalization payment may be granted if family benefits are lower than in the country of employment. You can provide evidence of your legal residence in Austria for yourself and your child through the presentation of the registration certificate (Anmeldebescheinigung) or the official photographic identification for EEA citizens (Lichtbildausweis für EWR-Bürger/Bürgerinnen).

Special regulations apply to cross-border commuters.

(cross-border commuters)

Parental right to part-time work

Parental right to part-time work is a legally regulated entitlement to reduction of the present total working time and/or change of the current working hours. The entitlement to parental part-time work remains in force no longer than up to the seventh birthday of the child, upon satisfaction of certain prerequisites.

This is however, only possible if:

- the company has more than 20 employees.
- and the employment at the point of parental part-time work has lasted for a minimum of three years without any interruptions (including maternity protection and leave)
- the parent applying for part-time employment lives in the same household with the child

The terms (commencement, duration, extent and conditions) are to be agreed with your employer. If there is no entitlement to the parental part-time work this can still be agreed with employers up to the 4th birthday of the child.

9.3 Family Allowance (Familienbeihilfe)

The EEA directive 883/2004 applies to EU/EEA citizens and Swiss citizens. The member state where the parent is employed (employment state principle) is the overriding state responsible for payment of any family benefits. In the case whereby both parents are employed in two different countries, the country of residence principle applies, thus, family allowance is granted in the country where the child permanently resides.

Competent authority:
- fiscal office competent for your place of residence

Children with main residence is in Austria are principally also entitled to family allowance benefits.

For:
- minors up to 18 years of age
- minors of 18 years of age if
  - they are in vocational training (including studying at a university)
  - they participate in a qualification training in their profession at an university of applied sciences and therefore cannot work in their profession
  - due to a handicap are probably incapable to provide themselves for their upkeep
  - are in the in-between stage between the end of military service, vocational placement or civilian national service and the beginning or continuation of their vocational training (vocational training must be started respectively continued at the earliest possible point), or
  - they have not reached their 24th birthday – for the period between the completion of school training and earliest possible start of other professional training;

Students have to satisfy additional prerequisites.

Any income (e.g. apprentice remuneration) children may receive before their 18th birthday is disregarded. If the earnings of older children exceed a specific annual limit, the family allowance is forfeited.

The family allowance amount depends on the age of the child. Child-related special tax allowances and supplements are granted as of the second or further child, or one or more disabled children.

You can use the Family Allowance Calculator (Familienbeihilfenrechner) to determine your family allowance total.

In a joint household, the parent who is the primary caregiver is entitled to receive the family allowance.

Family allowances are paid every two months.

10. EDUCATION

10.1 Education and Training – Overview

Very young and pre-school children are taken care of in crèches (Kinderkrippe) (for babies and very young children up to 3 years of age) as well as nursery schools and (public and private) kindergartens and pre-schools (Kindergarten, Vorschule). The demand for crèches and kindergartens is often greater than the available places. There is a growing trend for very young children to be cared for in very small groups by “day-care parents” (Tageseltern) – especially in small cities and agricultural regions.

Education is compulsory for all children permanently living in Austria from the age of six. Schooling is compulsory for nine years in Austria (from 6 – 15 years of age); attendance of public schools is free of charge. Public schooling is free.

After children have successfully completed their first four years of compulsory primary school (Volksschule/Grundschule), they may either attend the lower level of a main general secondary school (Hauptschule) – also called cooperative secondary school (Kooperative Mittelschule) – the lower level of a secondary academic school (Unterstufe der Allgemeinbildenden höheren Schule). Also a pilot programme Neue Mittelschule or „new secondary school“ is offered at some schools in Austria. The aim of this programme offering a joint school for children between 10 and 14 years of age is to address each pupil and their personal talents individually and hence offer a joint school with stronger internal differentiation. The curriculum of the lower level of a secondary academic school (Unterstufe der Allgemeinbildenden höheren Schule – AHS) is used in this pilot programme.

For their ninth year of schooling, children may attend a pre-vocational course (Polytechnische Schule), a vocational intermediate school (weiterführende berufsbildende Schule) as well as the upper level of a secondary academic school or at the upper level of a secondary grammar school (Oberstufengymnasium). The pre-vocational course (Polytechnische Schule) prepares with vocational placements and professional theory training for apprenticeships or vocational schools.

There are also special schools (special needs education/including training) for children with mental and/or physical disabilities or special educational needs which cover the first eight to nine years of schooling. Alternatively, a vocation preparatory year can be taken in the ninth school year; possibly followed by integrative vocational training.

Following completion of their ninth year of schooling, young people have the option of professional training in the form of an apprenticeship (vocational school and apprenticeship – dual training system), of entering the workforce or of continuing their education at a secondary school.

http://www.oead.at/fileadmin/oead_zentrale/willkommen_in_oe/Bildungssystem/Education_System_WEB.pdf

Intermediate-level secondary technical respectively vocational schools, health sector and nursing schools entitle students to exercise an occupation according to the type of school attended. Graduates of these schools may take diploma and school leaving examinations through extension courses.

Graduation from an academic secondary school or intermediate-level secondary technical respectively vocational school and passing the corresponding school-leaving examination entitles students to enrol in educational colleges, universities of applied sciences, academies, colleges, universities, etc.

However, young people and adults who have not passed the school leaving examination entitling to enrolment at universities may still be admitted to higher educational institutions through secondary educational path (the academic qualification tests (Studienberechtigungsprüfung), the matriculation exam for professionals (Berufsreifeprüfung), Matura examination for vocational trainees (Berufsmatura), or Matura examinations for external candidates (Externistenmatura)).
For EU/EEA citizens the same regulations are deemed applicable in terms of tuition fees as for Austrian citizens.

Pupils/students with a mother tongue other than German are fostered within the Austrian school system.

10.2 Initial Vocational Training – Apprenticeships

Vocational training is provided in Austria either through an apprenticeship or school-based education (in intermediate or higher-level secondary technical and vocational schools and colleges which offer practice-oriented instruction).

In Austria, training is offered in approximately 200 occupations. Young people who take up an apprenticeship receive on-the-job training in a company and also attend a vocational school on a part-time basis (dual training system). An apprenticeship lasts between two to four years depending on the apprenticeship trade and ends with the successful completion of a final apprenticeship examination (Lehrabschlussprüfung).

An apprenticeship contract (Lehrvertrag) must be signed the beginning of the apprenticeship and is to be concluded in writing between the young person (the apprentice) and the authorized trainer and specifies training conditions including the duration of the apprenticeship. In the case of minors, the apprentice’s legal guardian is also required to sign the contract.

For the apprentices the Vocational Training Act (Berufsausbildungsgesetz) and respective collective contract is valid. Apprentices are subject to special provisions (unfair dismissal protection, working hours, special youth protection provisions etc.).

Throughout Austria, apprenticeship programs are based on standard job profiles.
Apprentices are not paid a salary but receive an apprenticeship remuneration (Lehrlingsentschädigung) normally paid on a monthly basis. The amount of remuneration to be paid to the apprentice is based on collective labour agreements as well as company agreements. As a general rule, apprentices are entitled to paid holiday amounting to 30 working days per annum.

If you are looking for an apprenticeship, it is recommended that you contact the nearest branch of the Public Employment Service Austria.

10.3 Further Education

Ongoing training is one of the major prerequisites for a successful career. Amongst the largest training and further education institutions in Austria are the Careers Promotion Institute (BFI, Berufsförderungsinstitut), Trade & Industry Promotion Institute (WIFI, Wirtschaftsförderungsinstitut) and adult educational centres (Volkshochschule).

Career info centres (BIZ, Berufsinfozentren) offer both a comprehensive overview of career and schools education and training opportunities in Austria and individual consultation on specific educational and training issues.

Language courses are offered by all large training institutions (WIFI, BFI, adult educational centres) and language institutes.
